A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT HURLEY

Dear UMW Graduates,

It gives me great pleasure to congratulate you for the remarkable achievement that we celebrate today. You have met the challenge of rigorous and stimulating course work, experienced one-on-one interaction with exceptional faculty members, and engaged in cutting-edge research or innovative project development. Among the outstanding graduates today are debate champions, emerging scientists, exemplary educators, talented actors and musicians, All-American athletes, and future leaders of business and industry. You have distinguished yourselves as people of honor and integrity, as globally connected citizens, and as individuals committed to helping others.

The bond shared by all gathered here is unique – the University of Mary Washington experience. It is the sum total of the lessons you have learned here and the relationships you have forged with faculty and fellow students alike. This experience gives you an edge that will serve you well for the rest of your lives. As proud graduates of UMW, you will find that you are prepared for meaningful careers and for lives of significance.

I am grateful for the opportunity to serve as president of this great University. On behalf of the entire University community, I congratulate you for reaching this impressive milestone, and I wish you every success in your future endeavors.

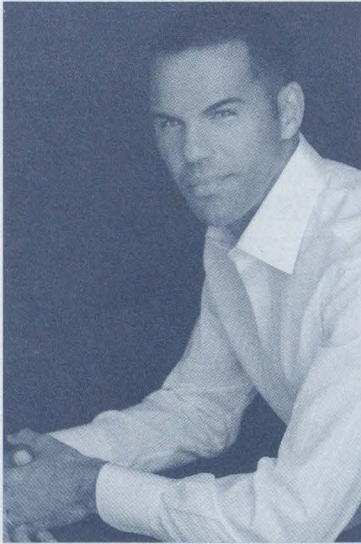

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, reading "Richard V. Hurley". The signature is written in a cursive style.

Richard V. Hurley
President

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

STEVE PEMBERTON

Steve Pemberton, Walgreens divisional vice president and chief diversity officer, is one of the nation's leaders on diversity and inclusion and their role in American industry. In January 2012, Mr. Pemberton, a child advocate, released his first book, A Chance in the World, an autobiography. He served for five years as vice president of diversity and inclusion at Monster.com and 10 years in admissions at Boston University, where he was responsible for diversification of the student body.

In 2006, Fortune magazine named Mr. Pemberton "one of the top 20 chief diversity officers in corporate America." In 2007, he was invited to Capitol Hill to provide expert testimony on best practices in diversity recruiting, and in 2008 Savoy magazine named him "one of the top 100 most influential African-Americans in corporate America." He visited the University of Mary Washington in February to deliver the 2013 Martin Luther King, Jr. keynote lecture.

Mr. Pemberton was a ward of the state for much of his childhood. His autobiography chronicles a difficult path through foster care, a determined search to find his family, and his dream of having a chance in the world.

A motivational speaker, Mr. Pemberton uses his unconventional journey to inspire young people – especially those who appear to have little chance to succeed. He talks to teaching professionals, caregivers, and others, and demonstrates what is possible when one works to overcome tragedy and become more than his circumstances.

He serves on several boards to provide guidance and inspiration to children in need, including The Home for Little Wanderers and UCAN, a social service organization that primarily helps wards of the Illinois child welfare system. The Pemberton Fund for the Future has been established in his name at The Home for Little Wanderers to assist children aging out of the foster care system.

Mr. Pemberton has been featured in People Magazine, The Boston Banner, the Boston Herald, Crain's Chicago Business, Chronicle News Magazine, and multiple news networks.

A graduate of Boston College, Mr. Pemberton lives in the Chicago area with his wife and three children.

SPECIAL AWARDS

The names of this year's award winners are kept confidential until they are announced at the commencement ceremony.

Student _____

COLGATE W. DARDEN, JR. AWARD

This award was established in 1960 to honor Colgate W. Darden, Jr., President of the University of Virginia from 1947 to 1959. It consists of a medal and a cash sum. It is awarded to the senior having the highest cumulative grade-point average. To be eligible for the Darden Award, a student must have earned at least 94 hours on which quality points may be computed.

Faculty _____

MARY W. PINSCHMIDT AWARD

This award was established in 1999 in honor of Professor Mary W. Pinschmidt, who throughout her academic career served as a role model and practitioner of exceptional liberal arts teaching and was a tireless contributor of service to her colleagues, her students, and the institution. The recipient of this award is selected by graduating seniors as the professor they feel they are most likely to remember as having the greatest impact on their lives. Recent recipients and their current faculty ranks include:

- 2009 JeanAnn Dabb, Professor of Art History
- 2010 Stephen C. Davies, Associate Professor of Computer Science
- 2011 Charles M. Murphy, Assistant Professor of Political Science
- 2012 Gary N. Richards, Associate Professor of English

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OUTSTANDING YOUNG FACULTY MEMBER AWARD

This award, started in 1989, recognizes an outstanding member of our faculty who has been at the University from two to five years. Recent recipients and their current faculty ranks include:

- 2009 W. Shawn Humphrey, Associate Professor of Economics
- 2010 Robert R. Barr, Associate Professor of Political Science
- 2011 Krystyn R. Moon, Associate Professor of History
- 2012 Rosemary K. Jesionowski, Associate Professor of Art

GRELLET C. SIMPSON AWARD

This award, started in 1972 and made possible by an anonymous donor, is presented each year at graduation to a faculty member in recognition of excellence in undergraduate teaching. Recent recipients and their current faculty ranks include:

- 2009 JeanAnn Dabb, Professor of Art History
- 2010 M. Gregg Stull, Professor of Theatre
- 2011 Teresa A. Kennedy, Professor of English
- 2012 Dawn S. Bowen, Professor of Geography

FACULTY EMERITI

Faculty members who have served the University of Mary Washington for at least 15 years and who have attained the rank of professor or associate professor are eligible to be considered for emeritus status. This honor, by action of the Board of Visitors, is bestowed this year upon the following distinguished members of the faculty.

Roy F. Gratz

Distinguished Professor of Chemistry

Chemist Roy F. Gratz joined the Mary Washington Department of Chemistry in 1975 after having taught for four years at Salem College in North Carolina. He specializes in organic and polymer chemistry.

He has taught the sophomore organic chemistry courses at Mary Washington since 1977, and has also taught experimental methods in chemistry and polymer chemistry. He has sponsored many students in independent-study and honors research. He served as department chair, as faculty senator for chemistry, and on numerous University committees.

Dr. Gratz did postdoctoral research at the Medical University of South Carolina and spent eight summers at NASA and Navy labs. His research has been published in several professional journals, and he holds seven patents from his work at NASA. He has held several leadership roles in the Virginia Section of the American Chemical Society, including section chair in 2000.

In the community, he has lectured advanced-placement students at Fredericksburg's James Monroe High School and served on its parent-teacher advisory council. He is chair of the Fredericksburg Planning Commission and has served on the city Board of Zoning Appeals.

Dr. Gratz holds a master of arts and a doctorate in organic chemistry from Duke University and a bachelor of science in chemistry from the University of Pittsburgh.

Margaret Ann Mi

Professor of Marketing

Margaret Ann Mi joined the Department of Business in 1989. She holds a doctorate in business administration from Virginia Commonwealth University.

Along with numerous other service roles at UMW, she served as president of the College of Business Faculty Senate. She has served as president of the Virginia Consortium of Asian Studies and vice president of the Hai Hung Foundation.

Her publications, presentations, lectures, professional associations, and honor societies are numerous. Dr. Mi was recommended by Del. William J. Howell to be a member of Gov. George Allen's Task Force on Telework in 1995, and she served with Shirley J. Ybarra, former Virginia Secretary of Transportation. She edited a white paper for "Telecommuting for the Commonwealth" for Gov. Jim Gilmore. The Harvard Business Review invited her to comment on the case study "How Do You Manage an Off-Site Team?" She served as vice president of the International Telework Association and Council and was founder and editor of its TeleTrends newsletter.

Dr. Mi has spoken on telecommuting and marketing in classrooms and conferences in Bulgaria, China, Japan, England, and Canada. The Direct Marketing Association of Washington, D.C., gave her its annual direct marketing award. She holds an MBA and a bachelor of business administration from Eastern New Mexico University. Dr. Mi is often contacted by media outlets and was twice featured on the radio show With Good Reason.

FACULTY EMERITI

Denis Nissim-Sabat

Professor of Psychology

Denis Nissim-Sabat joined the Department of Psychology in 1976, and he practiced clinical psychology in the Fredericksburg area as he rose to full professor. His areas of interest are broad: In teaching they include clinical psychology and the theoretical and philosophical foundations of the discipline; in research they include third-party reimbursements in public mental health and the stigma of mental illness.

Dr. Nissim-Sabat was awarded a congressional science fellowship by the American Psychological Association (APA) and served as legislative assistant for health care policy in the office of Illinois Sen. Paul Simon in 1989 and 1990. He has published widely in psychological journals and has presented dozens of papers at professional conferences, including reporting his findings on Soviet psychology. He also has had numerous articles published in the popular press.

Dr. Nissim-Sabat has served on many UMW committees and was faculty representative to the Board of Visitors and president of the Faculty Senate. His leadership roles with the APA include senior policy analyst and chair of its Board for the Advancement of Psychology in the Public Interest. He served the community as member and chair of the board of directors of the Rappahannock Community Services Board.

Dr. Nissim-Sabat holds a bachelor of arts in psychology from Case Western Reserve and a doctorate in clinical psychology from Temple University.

Larry W. Penwell

Professor of Management and Psychology

Larry W. Penwell came to Mary Washington in 1989 to teach and pursue research in the disciplines of psychology and business. With a doctorate in social psychology from the University of Cincinnati, he had been an organizational change consultant for GE Aircraft Engines.

Dr. Penwell has published extensively, and his work has been referenced in articles, books, and dissertations in eight languages and in studies sponsored by the National Science Foundation, the European Space Agency, and NASA. His work on human performance in extreme environments has been applied to trauma surgery teams, Mars mission design, polar research bases, crisis management, offshore oil rigs, and for fire, rescue, and military officer training.

His extensive group-relations work with the A.K. Rice Institute for the Study of Social Systems led to his directing the first group-relations conference in Fredericksburg and his subsequently serving on the board of the A.K. Rice Institute. His work in conflict management led to his involvement as a trainer, board member, and president of the Rappahannock Mediation Center.

As co-director of the 2000-2003 Southern Association of Colleges and Schools reaccreditation study, Dr. Penwell facilitated Mary Washington's transition from college to university. From 2009 to 2011, Dr. Penwell helped launch the UMW College of Business, first serving as executive director and then as acting dean.

ADMINISTRATOR EMERITA

Upon the retirement of a member of the administrative and professional faculty who has provided extended and meritorious service to the institution, the President may recommend that the Board of Visitors award emeritus status. This honor, by action of the Board of Visitors, is bestowed this year upon the following distinguished member of the administration.

Meta Robinson Braymer

Vice President of Economic Development and Regional Engagement

Meta Robinson Braymer joined the University of Mary Washington in 1990 as associate vice president for academic affairs and director of graduate and continuing education. As dean of graduate and professional studies, she directed and planned all academic programs for the James Monroe Center, now the Stafford campus, which opened in 1999. In 2003, she was the second person to whom the University awarded its highest honor, the Washington Medallion for Service to the University of Mary Washington.

From 2000 through 2010, Dr. Braymer served as vice president of graduate and professional studies and dean of faculty. In 2011, she was named vice president for economic development and regional engagement and was responsible for the Center for Economic Development. She chaired the Fredericksburg Regional Chamber of Commerce, the UMW Economic Development Conference, and the Strategic Planning Committee on Regional Engagement and Leadership. She was co-chair of the Executive-in-Residence Program and served on the Executive Management Committee for the Dahlgren Education and Research Center.

Dr. Braymer served on Virginia Gov. Tim Kaine's Advisory Transition Policy Committee for Higher Education, was a founding and board member of the Virginia Foundation for Women, and was a member of the Virginia Executive Committee to the American Council on Education for the Office of Women in Education. She was a founder of the Annual Leadership Colloquium for Professional Women and has been director since 1994.

Dr. Braymer has a bachelor of arts degree from Maryville College, a master of arts degree from The Ohio State University, and a doctoral degree in English from the University of Tennessee.

ACADEMIC HONORS AND SPECIAL AWARDS

Academic achievement is recognized at commencement through a variety of honors and awards. Other awards were presented at the convocation ceremony on Friday, May 10. In addition, most academic departments sponsor chapters of honor societies that recognize student achievement in specific disciplines.

ACADEMIC DISTINCTION

The University recognizes the academic achievement of graduating students through the distinction of summa cum laude, magna cum laude, cum laude, with highest distinction, and with distinction. Students who have earned at least 60 graded credits in residence may qualify for the first three of these awards with the following grade-point averages:

Summa Cum Laude	3.75 or higher
Magna Cum Laude	3.50-3.74
Cum Laude	3.25-3.49

With highest distinction and with distinction are awarded to graduating seniors who have earned 30 to 59 graded credits in residence with the following grade-point averages:

With Highest Distinction	3.75 or higher
With Distinction	3.30-3.74

DEPARTMENTAL HONORS

Students may earn graduation with honors in their major subjects. Each department establishes its own requirements for honors projects or theses. All departments require that a student intending to undertake an honors project have a specified minimum grade-point average in the major subject and a minimum grade-point average for all work completed at the University of Mary Washington.

ACADEMIC CUSTOMS AND DRESS

The origins of many customs of the academic world can be traced to the Middle Ages, particularly the 11th and 12th centuries, when the first European universities – Bologna, Paris, and Oxford – were founded.

In their original organization, the universities were like medieval corporations or guilds. In fact, the word “universitas” originally referred to any kind of corporation. The students at the universities were equated to guild apprentices, so the completion of the apprenticeship was celebrated by a “commencement” marking the beginning of their careers.

In the 12th century, everyone wore gowns. The social and economic status of an individual was shown by the extra features, such as fur trimming, on the gowns. Cloaks with hoods were worn over gowns for protection in bad weather. Degrees began to be awarded in the 13th century, and different styles of gowns and different colors came to represent the various degrees and disciplines.

Over the centuries the styles of dress changed, and by the 17th century the wearing of gowns by men had virtually ceased. But the universities, particularly those in Britain, continued to be conservative and strict in the manner of academic customs and dress. At Oxford, for instance, a candidate for a master’s degree had to swear that he owned a gown and would always wear it at the proper times.

The first American universities were founded on English models. However, the wearing of academic dress was not universal and ceased during the Civil War. The custom was revived in the late 19th century, and in 1895 an academic custom code was adopted that, with modifications, is still used.

Most American universities have the standard black gown with the hood serving to distinguish the individual institution. Some American and European universities have adopted or preserved more distinctive gowns. There are three styles of gowns, distinguished mainly by the sleeves: the bachelor’s gown, with long pointed sleeves; the master’s, with a squared sleeve, cut so the forearm is free; and the doctoral gown, with bell-shaped sleeves with three velvet bands.

The hood is the most distinguishing feature of modern gowns, indicating the degree (the width of the edging band), the discipline (the color of the band), and the college or university (the colors of the lining). Today’s graduates have hoods edged in white (B.A.), gold (B.S., BLS), or drab (BPS). Many faculty members will have blue edging indicating the doctoral degree. The faculty will be wearing hoods representing many distinguished institutions of higher education, such as maroon for University of Chicago, red and gold for the University of Manchester, crimson and gray for the University of Alabama, and green and gold for Wayne State University.

THE ACADEMIC MACE

The tradition of the academic mace began in the late 14th century, when two ancient instruments, the royal scepter and the battle mace, were combined to form a symbol of the authority of the president or rector of a university. Noblemen carried the battle mace as both a weapon and staff of command, and the sovereign used the regal scepter as a sign of rulership, justice, and authority.

Together with the chain of office, the academic mace indicates that the president of the university is the temporary embodiment of the power, authority, autonomy, and sovereignty vested in the institution represented.

At the University of Mary Washington, the grand marshal carries the academic mace on behalf of the president at academic events such as commencement exercises, inaugurations, and convocations.

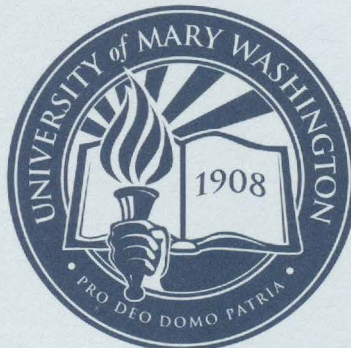

The original University of Mary Washington mace, first used for the May 1970 Commencement, was designed by Asprey and Company of London, England. The sterling mace carried in today's commencement ceremony was commissioned as a special project of the University Centennial Celebration in 2008. It was designed by Suzannah Wagner Merritt of Ashland, Va. The mace encompasses numerous symbols of the University, including lapis stones to display the school color; blossoms of dogwood to honor the Virginia state tree; acorns and oak leaves to recall the historic tree at Brompton, home of the UMW President; and a herringbone motif representing Campus Walk. The six prongs are engraved with the six names of the school prior to its becoming a university in 2004; the prongs are adorned with a lapis disc engraved with the University seal. The handle is emblematic of the original Mary Washington mace.

THE UNIVERSITY SEAL

In addition to a book and lamp, signifying knowledge, the University seal denotes the year the institution was founded, 1908, and the University motto, Pro Deo Domo Patria, translated from Latin to "For God, home, and country."

PRESIDENTIAL COLLAR

Chains of office, also known as collars, originated in the Middle Ages and are worn today by presidents on ceremonial occasions as part of their regalia. The University of Mary Washington chain is a unique design crafted from gold-plated sterling silver with lapis lazuli gem accents. Symbols important to the history of the University are incorporated in every element of the chain. A large medallion depicting the school seal is flanked by white oak leaves modeled after the stately oak tree at Brompton, home of the president. The names of the previous presidents of this institution alternate with its six historical names on links that are connected with blossoms of dogwood, the Virginia state tree. The chain was unveiled during the University of Mary Washington Commencement in 2006, and, by tradition, is presented to each new president to wear during ceremonial occasions.

THE EAGLE PIPE BAND

As has become tradition, the Eagle Pipe Band will perform at today's commencement ceremony. The band was formed in 1997 with a small number of Mary Washington students and members of the Fredericksburg community. It has grown steadily each year, adding pipers, drummers, and dancers. The band has been a top contender in pipe band competitions across the East Coast.

The Eagle Pipe Band was founded by Dr. Raymond B. Scott, University of Mary Washington Professor of Chemistry, and is under his direction. The tartan worn by the musicians was designed for the University to match the school colors and is registered in Scotland's official registry of tartans.

UNIVERSITY OF MARY WASHINGTON PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA

The University of Mary Washington Philharmonic Orchestra will offer music during today's commencement ceremony. A cultural jewel for central Virginia, the ensemble is recognized as a premier university-community orchestra of national distinction. Celebrating its 42nd year, the UMW orchestra program delivers an outstanding music education for students, high levels of community engagement, and quality entertainment and educational resources for the region.

The UMW Philharmonic Orchestra is under the direction of Dr. Kevin Patrick Bartram, who is concluding his 11th year as orchestra director at the University of Mary Washington.

NOTATIONS

Alma Mater

All hail, dear Alma Mater,
We sing our praise to you.
High on Marye's Hilltop
You stand forever true;
Born in truth and honor
You ever more shall be,
The model of our future years
And all eternity.

Whene'er we have to leave you
We never will forget,
The lessons you have taught us,
And all the friends we've met;
And we your sons and daughters
Will hold your name on high,
So here's to Mary Washington;
Our love will never die.
